

Enjoy Friuli

Bordering Austria and Slovenia Friuli is Italy's easternmost region renowned all over the world for its excellent white wines and for the famous San Daniele raw ham.

As well as enjoying the aroma and tastes of Friuli we strongly suggest the following visits:

Gorizia: a small town rich in history and culture situated in a meander of the Isonzo River. For long time the town has been divided into two parts by a border like a small Berlin.

A visit of the town can not but end with a lunch at one of the numerous trattorie where you can taste typical „border cuisine“ combining different cultures.

Cividale del Friuli: located on the banks of the Natisone River, Cividale del Friuli has developed and kept over the centuries its noble character. Discover the town from its very historic centre, the Piazza del Duomo (Duomo Square).

San Daniele del Friuli: San Daniele is renowned all over the world for its wonderful and aromatic raw ham appreciated everywhere by gourmets. To end your tour properly we highly suggest a visit to a ham producing estate and a tasting.
